

General Discussion Questions on Discrimination

How does the author portray discrimination in the story? What types of discrimination are highlighted (racial, gender, class, etc.)?

What impact does discrimination have on the characters' identities and choices throughout the narrative?

How do the characters respond to discrimination? Are their reactions portrayed as empowering, passive, or somewhere in between?

How does the setting (time and place) influence the depiction of discrimination in the story?

Does the narrative offer any solutions or critiques regarding discrimination? What message does the author seem to be sending?