

General Discussion Questions on Racism

How do characters experience and respond to racism in the text?

How does racism intersect with other forms of oppression in the story (class, gender, religion)?

Do the issues of racism presented feel specific to the book's context, or do they echo contemporary society?

How might readers from different backgrounds interpret the text differently?

How can literature contribute to social change when it comes to racism?

Did the text make you reconsider your own assumptions or perspectives on race? How?