

General Discussion Questions on Race

What does the text suggest about the possibility of forming a unified racial or cultural identity?

What stereotypes about race are challenged or reinforced in the work?

What is the reader's responsibility when interpreting racially charged material?

How do characters resist or internalize racist systems in the story?

How do friendships or romances across racial lines reveal the complexities of prejudice and privilege?

What role does empathy play in understanding racial difference?